Teachers, Parents Enjoy "Get- Acquainted Tea"

BARREHEAD—The Home and School Association held an informal get-acquainted tea for the teachers in the library of the school Wednesday afternoon recently, giving parents the opportunity to meet and welcome the new teachers, and meet the ones who were here before.

After the business meeting, the teachers were introduced by the school principal, Mr. L. Jenkins. The teachers told where they were from and the grades and subjects they were teaching. The members and visitors then introduced themselves and gave the names and grades of their children attending school if any. The mayor, Mr. C. Yaitt spoke on behalf of the town and the school board of which he is a member.

Dr. H. Horner addressed the meeting as president of the chamber of commerce, inviting the teachers to take part in the various activities of the town. Mr. N. Miller, representing the Barrehead Legion, outlined the activities and results of the local A.R.C. and the training camp in B.C., also mentioned the three trophies brought back as special awards. One Cadet received his pilot license, leaving three more in training.

The meeting closed with a sing-song and a lunch was served by the ladies.

BON ACCORD—Miss Lucy Bland, now attending McTavish Business College in Edmonton, celebrated her 18th birthday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bland, Friday evening, September 12. Twenty-five guests had a very lively and enjoyable evening square dancing, statue guessing, etc., topping it all off with delicious refreshments complete with birthday cake and all the trimmings. Lucy received many beautiful gifts and many good wishes from her friends.

Cautious Approval Given To Metropolitan School District Plan

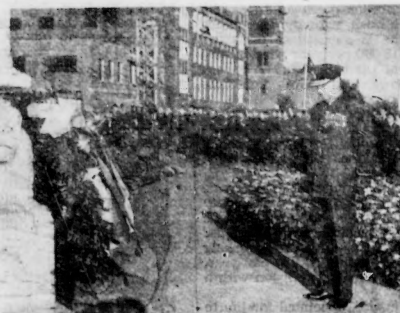

Last week at a City Council meeting, the finance committee gave cautious approval to the District Planning Commission's plan for a metropolitan school district. The motion was passed for council's approval and reserved final decision until the financial view of the proposal has been made clear.

The plan, based on a survey by Leonard Gertler, planning economist for the commission, envisions a central administration for the city, Jasper Place and Beverly and surrounding rural school districts.

As far as the finance committee and the school boards were concerned, reports on the plan have lacked sufficient details for either approval or disapproval.

J. W. K. Shortreed, public school trustee, said there is no doubt that the plan finally will be implemented in some form. "All action," he said, "should be directed to finding how it can be done from the financial standpoint."

Mr. Shortreed said the divisions outside the city would be liabilities

Good Harvest Weather Speeds Threshing, Combining In District

Last week this district experienced one of the best harvesting periods for a long time, and another two weeks of good weather will see completion of Alberta's bumper grain crop.

St. Albert News Briefs

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kennedy were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brennan and family of Drumbell.

The 4-H Sewing Tents held their initial meeting of the new year on Monday evening. Miss Ruth Whaley was in attendance and plans were made for the coming year's work.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Perron and family of Anchorage, Alaska, spent a few days last week visiting the Kennedy and Perron families, while en route to the United States. Before returning to Alaska next spring, they plan to visit in Idaho, Alabama, California and Washington.

Wheat harvesting varies from 15 to 100 per cent cut or swathed in Central Alberta where the weather has been changeable. Five to 33 per cent of the wheat has been threshed. Some light damage resulted from frost in a few points. Others reported grain lodged by winds and heavy rains.

In the Peace River area harvesting is again in full swing. Wheat cutting is about 50 per cent completed, oats 75 per cent and barley 60 per cent. Threshing of wheat is about 10 per cent completed.

Yields are good. Harvesting in the Edmonton region now has been uninterrupted for a week.

Threshing will be general this weekend if good weather continues. Some increase in the tough grades is reported in this district. However, yields are above average.

Alberta's totals were: Cut—wheat 81 per cent, oats 82 and barley 88; (1951)—wheat 37 per cent, oats 39 and barley 43; threshed—wheat 35 per cent, oats 38, and barley 51.

The hours are from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 p.m., or to the Egremont Community Hall the second Wednesday of each month between the hours of 1:30 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

For any inquiries, you may contact the Sturgeon Health Unit office in Edmonton at the Queen Appelle Building, or phone them at 21224. Your help and co-operation will be appreciated in this matter by the Unit.

12-YEAR-OLD GIRL GETS HAIR CAUGHT IN AUGER

BARREHEAD—A very serious and painful accident occurred last Saturday afternoon at about half past three when Miss Judith Fisher, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Fisher, of Neer-land, had her hair caught in the grain auger of her father's truck. Mr. Fisher was loading grain into his truck on the Henry Bender farm and his daughter was helping him finish the load when the wind caught her hair and blew it into the main auger, which wound up her hair and pulled off about 40 per cent of her scalp, according to reports. She was at once rushed to an Edmonton hospital, where she is now undergoing treatment and doing as well as can be expected.

While in Edmonton that evening, Mr. Fisher was driving towards the hospital with his brother Dick's car and was involved in an accident, some $1700 damage being done to the two cars.

Fire Protection Week— Oct. 5-11

In the rush to designate weeks to further the cause of some particular project, the really important ones may tend to be overlooked. By Royal Proclamation at Ottawa, October 5th to 11th has been designated "Fire Protection Week."

It is alarming to learn from the Proclamation that in the last ten years 534,777 fires in Canada have destroyed property valued at $542 million. In that time 4,087 persons have lost their lives and it is estimated that at least 15,000 others have been seriously injured as a result of fire.

What the Proclamation cannot show, of course, is the number of lives that could have been saved; the value of property that could have been protected; if a systematic inspection had been made beforehand of all conditions likely to cause or promote the spread of fire.

Apart from the obvious inspection of public buildings; fire drill in schools, factories and offices; education in fire protection in schools, to Boy Scout groups and the like; every householder can be a voluntary fire warden by checking his own home for fire hazards.

An obvious place to start is in the basement with the furnace pipes — a frequent cause of fire. And the average basement is cluttered with inflammable material that serves little purpose except to add fuel to a potential fire. It's best out on the city or town dump.

Faulty electric switches are best replaced, they're worn out anyway and can be a fire hazard. An open fireplace without a guard — particularly with children around — is an unnecessary risk. A faulty chimney can bring fire-producing sparks. The modern home is full of labor-saving devices and comforts which in good condition are harmless, but worn out or faulty, can spell disaster through fire.

Yes, "Fire Protection Week" is one week that should be taken seriously. A couple of hours spent by every householder in checking possible hazards would be amply repaid by a reduction in fire losses in Canada. And fire protection brings ease of mind.

Grain Handlers' Power

Power of 1400 grain handlers to thwart and impede the work of two million farmers and others interested in the production of grain was made clear when employees of grain companies at Port Arthur and Fort William threatened to go on strike early in September.

Fortunately, the strike was averted, when the handlers' demands were partially satisfied. The Union demands included a reduction in the work week from 48 to 40 hours and an increase in wages of 40c per hour. This would considerably boost the previous scales of $228.00 to $300.00 per month.

With the year's greatest crop in process of being delivered, the strike of 1400 grain handlers COULD have tied up the delivery and marketing most effectively.

Correcting The Flax Myth

Many people seem to be of the opinion that flax is hard on the land. Such, however, does not appear to be the case, according to results of experiments over the past 60 years at the agricultural experimental station at Fargo, North Dakota.

A plot of land there, which has grown flax continuously without the aid of fertilizer since 1890, last year produced an average of 20 bushels per acre. A report from the station in 1898 showed the average yield to be 12.3 bushels per acre.

Tests made on the straw and chaff as well as the grain showed that producing a good average crop of flax removed less nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium from the soil than did wheat, oats or barley.

Eisenhower on Social Security

One of the most vital of social security measures is that affecting the health of the individual. In the United States, as in Canada, many people feel that with socialized medicine the fear of sickness, with large hospital and doctor bills would forever be banished from the lives of people who cannot afford, under the present system, to be sick.

Now comes General Eisenhower, who from his boyhood days never had to dig into his own pocket for as much as an aspirin tablet or a toothbrush, with the astounding assertion that he is opposed to socialized medicine. At $18,000 per year pension as a retired general of the U.S. Army it is easy for Mr. Eisenhower, Republican candidate for the presidency of the United States, to tell poor workmen and others they should stand on their own two feet when it comes to doctor bills, hospital expenses and the high costs for medicines with which some unfortunate are faced.

This reminds us of a judge of the Supreme Court of Canada telling a class of university graduates to work for, not materialistic things in life, but to strive for the higher ambitions of the spirit. If a hard-working priest or minister, getting $1,800 per year, tells us that, we are willing to listen with a mark of respect.

But when a justice, appointed for life to the Bench at $25,000 per year tells us not to worry about making money, we blink our eyes and swallow hard.

Dollar Up; Wheat Down

Canadian money is now rated as the most valuable in the world. This may be a source of pride to the people of this country, but it does not work out so well for primary producers dependent to a large extent on export markets. The premium position of the Canadian dollar brings down the price of exports.

In the case of wheat, the International Wheat Agreement provides for a ceiling price of $1.80, but that price was based on the value of Canadian money in March, 1949. Canadian money now is more valuable than it was then in the opinion of the world, and so the ceiling price has declined accordingly. The average price for 1 northern wheat at Fort William during the month of July was $1.74½ a bushel or 5½ cents below the $1.80 ceiling. As wheat agreement prices are the standard for domestic prices, there was a similar decline for wheat sold for Canadian consumption.

Full Speed Ahead

With threat of a grain handlers strike over for the time being, and most of the seasonal hazards a thing of the past for this year, it is "full speed ahead" for the Western grain crop.

The federal bureau of statistics now estimates Canada's 1952 wheat crop at 675 million bushels. This compares with the previous highest estimate of 665 million bushels. The previous highest Canadian wheat crop was 567 million bushels in 1928.

With all the modern harvesting machinery of 1952 one wonders how the farmers of 1928 managed to harvest so much grain with the comparatively old-fashioned machinery of 24 years ago. It has taken nearly a quarter of a century to beat that 1928 record!

Let's hope and pray that good harvest weather, with warm, dry days and cool dry nights prevails in Alberta until the crop is harvested. Let's hope, too, that marketing of the grain is facilitated to move the crop to the hungry markets of the world.

RUGGED INDIVIDUALISM

Lately I read a letter lamenting that social security didn't exist because there was a long time to wait between baby bonus and old age pension. I wonder what has gone wrong with people. Don't we know that the more social security we have the more taxes we pay. Money has to come from some place in order to pay the Old Age Pension, Family Allowance and other benefits. Here is one reader that would like to see more determination on the part of the individual to make their own way in life. We live in a wonderful country of opportunity. Let's stop wondering how much more we can get out of the Government, and get down to business and save for our own security. Our fathers built this country, and they wouldn't take a dollar unless they earned it.

HARD WORKER.

VS. BOOZE BUSINESS

In September 11 issue Mr. Puc discusses liquor advertising in Alberta papers.

I am opposed to it on these grounds. Drinking is the cause of untold misery. To it can be charged most of the moral disintegration of youth. Diabolically clever liquor advertising often starts one youth in so-called "harmless" social drinking, which all too often develops into chronic drinking.

Mr. Puc makes a good point re periodicals from outside the Province entering our homes with their liquor advertising. Wait a minute we can give preference to non-advertising periodicals.

It may seem inconsistent for the Albert Government to sell liquor while banning advertising—but it seems the only course open to them. I have never voted Social Credit but in fairness to them I feel they are doing the best they can about booze, short of nationalizing it (which I favor) but which the public has never given them a mandate to do. It seems that some people will have it anyway, so let the Government make some money out of it with which to try and repair a little of the damage it causes, and to educate by advertising against liquor.

But let us not allow Brewster's advertising which always makes it appear smart and attractive rather than sordid and enervating.

OPEN CHURCH AT BOYLE

Replying to William Sullivan on his question of daily baptisms and the services of the Church. Yes, the church at Boyle and throughout the Boyle and Lac la Poudre Missions are always open and can be used for private devotions or any public or private service, and the clergy are always glad to be of service at any time. I think that if the average person used the House of God more often it would have a tendency to curb moral delinquency and bring people and especially parents, to a right understanding, as to what is meant by serving God and man.

It becomes a personal matter between God and man, and man must work out his own salvation and even this is not a public affair. (When you pray, pray in secret and your Father who is in Heaven will grant you your heart's desires.)

So, come to church and spend a few minutes with God each day, in the beauty, the peace and the knowledge of having been with God.

HEARTY CHAMPION

A word in defence of that much maligned little hero the human heart. Contrary to medical opinion there is no such thing as heart failure, instead there is a limit to the amount of abuse a heart can take. It is my fervent hope that the bureau of vital statistics will take cognizance of this fact and in future account heart failure only as an effect not a cause.

He sat at a table and waited—and waited. Three waiters, at a table in the rear, were earnestly playing pinchus. Finally, after long minutes, the proprietor sauntered through and caught the situation at a glance.
"That's how it is," he roared "I got three waiters and they can't even wait on one lousy customer."

Art or Utility?
A CWA artist was commissioned to paint murals in the reptile house at the Natural Zoo.

U.S. Swine and Swine Products Prohibited

OTTAWA—Effective immediately all import into Canada from the United States of swine, uncooked pork, pork products, pork offal and garbage is prohibited under authority of the Animal Contagious Diseases Act. It was announced by Dr. T. Childs, veterinary director general of the federal department of agriculture.
This action was taken because of the prevalence in the United States of vesicular exanthema, a highly infectious disease of swine, which if introduced into Canada could cause serious damage to the Canadian swine industry.
Vesicular exanthema closely resembles foot and mouth disease, but it is entirely confined to swine, whereas foot and mouth disease affects cattle and sheep in addition to swine.

What's in the Name?

STAVELY
The town of Stavely was named after Alexander Stavely Hill, QC, MP, Judge Advocate of the Fleet, who organized the Oxley Ranch in 1882, naming it after his residence, Oxley Manor, Wolverhampton. He visited the district in 1881-2-3, and is the author of "From Home to Home" which he wrote in 1884. He died in 1905.

The population of Stavely in 1946 was 299. The town is some 71 miles south of Calgary situated in a ranching and farming area.

For a word picture, Stavely is comprised of one drug store, three general stores, five garages and service stations, one bank, two barbers, one hotel, two hardware, one lumber yard; one meat market, four restaurants, one theatre, and other business places.

TURNER VALLEY

With a population of around 1,157 people the town of Turner Valley, some 38.2 miles from Calgary via Midnapore, was named after Robert and James Turner, who homesteaded in the north end of the valley in 1886. Both Turners were well-known horse and cattle breeders.

The prominent types of occupations carried on within the region are oil well production and grain farming.

LETTERS TO LOUISA

Dear Louisa:

My husband and I have always got along together nicely. He worked and I kept the house. When he came home in the evening I always had a nice dinner for him and in the morning a good breakfast before he went to work. My housework and marketing took several hours of the day but it left me with time to do what I wished or rest. After dinner if we wished to go out, I stacked my dishes and did them after I got in or the next morning. I did not ask my husband to help as I felt that my work was no harder than his.

But now I have a problem. Several months ago we decided to buy a home and we could not do this unless I went back to work. I got my old job as a stenographer but now I have to leave home early in the morning and I get home the same time my husband does.

Notwithstanding the fact that we both have outside work, he still thinks that I should do all of the housework. I rush around getting breakfast while he reads the morning paper and when I get home, he expects me to get dinner while he looks at television, and then he has the nerve to say that the meals do not taste as good as they used to. He also complains that I don't like to go out in the evenings like we did before.

What can I do? If I keep on like this, I'll be a nervous wreck. LOUISA B.

Answer:
Before you went back to work you should have talked the matter over with your husband and had him agree to help with the housework if you took an outside job.

Housework was considered woman's work in the days when very few women did anything else and the man provided the money to pay the bills. But when a woman has to take on an additional job to help pay expenses, the present-day husband realizes that she is helping him do his job and the only fair plan is for him to help her with hers.

I know one man of a working couple who vacuums the house and keeps the bathrooms as his regular job. He also lends a hand with the dishes if they are going out in the evening and will start the dinner if he gets home first.

Try to make your husband understand that you are helping him with his job and, in all fairness to you, he should help you with yours.

LOUISA.

Light, Assistant to the Director of Religious Administration, holds the specially inscribed Divine Service Book for the Armed Forces which was also presented to F/L Galbraith. F/L Galbraith has had considerable previous Air Force experience, as he served as a Physical Training and Drill Instructor from 1941 to 1945, obtaining the rank of Flight Lieutenant before retiring. ROCKYFORD PASTOR RECEIVES CHAPLAIN'S SCARF IN RCAF

TRENTON, Ont. — In a simple and yet impressively sincere induction service, held in the chapel of this RCAF Station, two United Church ministers, F/L Rev. M. Galbraith of Rockyford, Alta., and F/L Rev. J. H. McAvary of Brockville, Ont., were today received into the chaplaincy service of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

The little chapel bright in a flood of golden lightness from the clear September sun, seemed most appropriately dedicated to the occasion, as the choir opened the service with the singing of the invocation.

From across the distant acrore and high in the open sky could be heard the steady drone of aircraft, weaving their endless pattern into a free nations plan for universal peace. Perhaps, as this outward sound of activity reached into the chapel, the two chaplains recalled momentarily other days and other occasions when both had worn the uniform of the RCAF under conditions of war. Now under conditions of peace, they returned to that service not as warriors but as followers and messengers of the Great Prince of Peace.

The scripture reading was conducted by F/L the Rev. E. Light of Ottawa and the induction read by Wing Commander the Rev. J. Dunn of Montreal. Group Captain the Rev. R. M. Frayne, director of religious administration (Protestant), conducted the investiture. The service was attended by Air Commodore W. W. Brown, CD, Acting Air Officer Commanding.

Land Title Case Postponed Until Jan.

EDMONTON — An Alberta farmer's right to $1,000,000 in mineral rights was postponed until January at the Appellate Division court, which opened in Edmonton Monday.

The case, expected to have far-reaching effects on land titles in the province, involves an appeal by the Canadian Pacific Railway and Imperial Oil Limited against an Alberta Supreme Court judgment, which awarded Anton Turtur of the Leduc district the mineral petroleum rights on his land.

According to evidence given to the Supreme Court last Spring, the case hinges on a mistake by the Alberta land titles office in 1908, when the registrar added the words "and petroleum" and when the CPR took over a quarter section of land for development. The original title had only reserved to the CPR all coal found on the land, and the Supreme Court ruled the correction made by the registrar was not valid.

Court officials say the case is important, as if the Supreme Court decision is reversed and registrars have the right to make correction in land transfer titles, Alberta's Torrens system of land titles will be nullified. Under the system when a piece of land is purchased, the purchaser owns everything not reserved in the existing title.

The case is expected to go to the Supreme Court of Canada before a final decision is reached.

McAvary served in Aircraftmen from 1942 until the cessation of hostilities. F/L Galbraith has since served charges in Manitoba and Alberta with the United Church. He is married, Mrs. Galbraith being the former Jean Spice of Yorkton, Sask. They have five children.

F/L McAvary has served charges since ordination in both Ontario and Manitoba. Mrs. McAvary is the former Jacqueline Burns of Brockville, Ontario. They have three daughters.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir—The Edmonton School Board has a very definite problem. And it is offered much in the way of advice and help. One of the proposed helps is the so-called Gertler plan, behind which there is a story.

Edmonton district has a Planning Commission. All the municipalities in the area have representatives on that Commission. It has the job of planning and recommending an orderly development of the area including the Municipal Districts as far away as Leduc and Morinville. Mr. Gertler is an employee of the Commission.

The preparation of the District report was not initiated by the members of the Planning Commission. It came to them as a result of a proper request by an interested and responsible Cabinet Minister. It was prepared as an additional information for the Minister with a background of Edmonton School Board immediate need rather than as a planned recommendation carrying the area represented by the members of the Commission.

There is some doubt that the District Planning Commission is a body intended to deal with questions of boundaries, finance or financial troubles of any of its member groups. In concept it deals with matters of land use, housing, population needs, sanitation necessities, etc., and presents facts and conditions to governing bodies. It is not necessarily interested in administrative boundaries unless it is used as a sounding board by a representative of a member governing body.

But the Gertler report, prepared to supply an analysis of the financial difficulties of the Edmonton School Board is being used to influence public opinion or at least as a basis for discussion by the public without a corresponding presentation of the converse side of the analysis.

The Gertler report is somewhat naïve in its basic concepts. It deals with the difficulties of the Edmonton School Board in financing which are real enough. It finds that Edmonton is not paying enough taxes and may not be able to borrow enough money to necessary school capital expenditures.

Then it looks two miles east into a neighbor's pasture and says, "Let us go in and set up a case for help there." It assumes that the said rat-payers under different administration boundaries would act differently and have different capacities to pay taxes.

Worst of all it directs the attention of the public to the wrong source for assistance. It recognizes the industrial boom of the province, perhaps sparked by oil development, as a direct factor in its immediate financial difficulty, and overlooks the fact that the so-called fringe industrial area is a negligible per cent of the cause. It assumes that income from taxes from that source direct to the Edmonton School Board would be without balancing expenditures. It makes no suggestion that there is in Edmonton the ability to gather taxes from sources not now being fully explored.

The report fails to point in the direction where help is already emanated from the same source that caused the trouble, the boom. It is in essence a political document that must now have served its purpose. The government of Alberta has surplus monies from the boom that must meet the added expense of the boom to local governments, including those governments that the Gertler report suggests should take less so that Edmonton could take more. It is not even proof that Edmonton would be getting a bargain.

It will require heavy taxes from the area looking pasture to improve its own area. Nothing can produce more chaos than changing boundaries to adjust debts, economic gerrymandering.

As a basis for public discussion the Gertler report is inadequate and dangerous. Members of the Planning Commission should insist on its withdrawal until an analysis of the whole area is properly prepared and properly presented to the public.

The exceptional sunny and dry weather last week was most welcome by farmers. Some have already completed their threshing. Some cloudy weather at the beginning of this week accompanied by little showers delayed threshing once more, but it is hoped it will be of short duration. The yield per bushel seems to be a record again this year. The elevator agents have reported having shipped more than one hundred carloads of grain on a quota of six bushels per acre.

Visitors here last week were: Father Ketchen and his curate, Father Robert from Edmonton, also Father Berdine from Lacombe, Father Houchard, O.M.I. from Peace River. Also Rev. TOMAHAWK—The monthly meeting for September of the Tomahawk Woman's Institute, was held at the home of Mrs. Grace Earle. It was decided to have Miss Joyce Lewis, Nutrition Specialist, out on October 4 or 18, which ever evening would suit her best, to our joint meeting of the W.I. and Home and School, to help us organize a hot lunch program for the school.

Mr. Medd gave an interesting report on the July's issue of the United Nation's paper, Mrs. Brown read her report on Agriculture entitled "Bulbs." Mrs. Marion Joan was asked to read a poem which she wrote herself entitled "Tomahawk Woman's Institute." The meeting adjourned and a delightful lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Earle.

MORINVILLE—Emile Royer, youthful employee of the Preston Clarke Pipeline Company, received extensive injuries last Sunday when he attempted to jump on the platform of a ditching machine and was caught in the moving tracks.

Only the quick action of the machine operator in reversing the machine, thereby releasing the victim, saved him from even greater harm.

Emile was carried into Mr. and Mrs. Jerry St. Germaine's home where he was given first aid by Eleanor and her mother, Mrs. Bissanette. Dr. Perrault was called and attended him until a ambulance arrived to take him to the Royal Alexandra hospital.
